

Mojave Max Update

March
4002

Since Max's Emergence in February, he has been trying to "Warm up" to spring. Max has spent several hours per day absorbing the sun's rays to get his body temperature up by sunning himself against the south-facing wall of his habitat.

Flowers should be coming out soon to provide a tasty energy boost. Keep posted to find out when other critters will make an appearance.